DETAILED ACTION

This office action is in response to amendment filed January 13, 2009. Claims 1, 6, 7, 9 and 11-35 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant argues that the subject claims 1, 6, 7, 9 and 11-14 has been included in the present claims since at least August 4, 2004 and since that there has been at least six office actions examining the claims with no restriction. Examiner would like to point out that Applicant added claims 11-14 after the first restriction/election. Applicant elected claims 1-3, 6-7 and added claims 11-14 with only claim 1 as independent claim. Applicant also added dependent claims 15-26 after the first action on the merits. Applicant then amended independent claim 1 and also amended dependent claim 9 and into independent (see amendment filed 2/5/07). On 10/29/07 applicant added additional independent claims 27, 34 and 35 and on 4/23/08 applicant amended claims 6 and 7 and claims 6 and 7 became independent claims. The application now includes claims 1, 6, 7, 9, 27, 34 and 35 as independent claims.

Even though Applicant' argument to the improper election/restriction requirement is persuasive. Examiner still consider restriction is proper since the added or amended claims are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reason.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1, 6, 7, 9, 11-25 and 27-33 drawn to determining an offer based on a round up amount and genetic program or algorithm, classified in class 705, subclass 14.

- II. Claims 34, drawn to initializing genetic algorithm or program, classified in class 706, subclass 13.
- III. Claim 35, drawn to training a system in one environment and identifying a second environment to use the trained system, classified in class 706, subclass 12.

Inventions II and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because establishing a threshold criteria for activation of the offer generation system and running the offer generation system as a background process in a given environment, whereby the offer generation system is trained to make offers in given environment and the offer generation system automatically self activating, in response to detecting the threshold criteria is met. The subcombination has separate utility such as training a genetic algorithm and automatically self activating the algorithm in response to a threshold criteria.

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Inventions I and II, III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as receiving an order information and determining an offer for the customer based on a round up amount and genetic program or genetic algorithm. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of an invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
